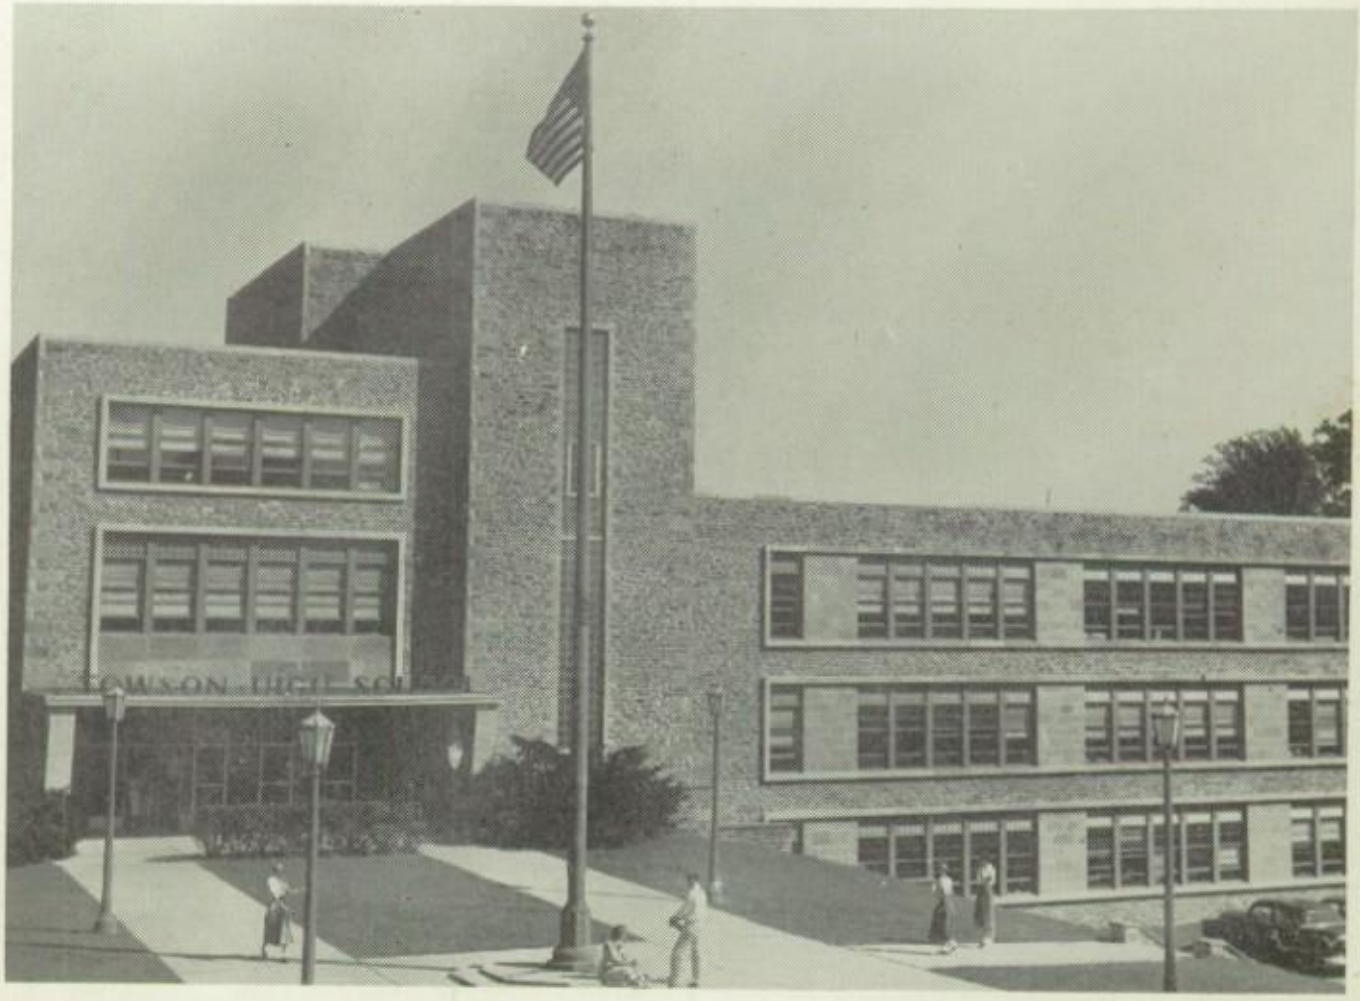
TOWSON, MARYLAND

Golden Memories

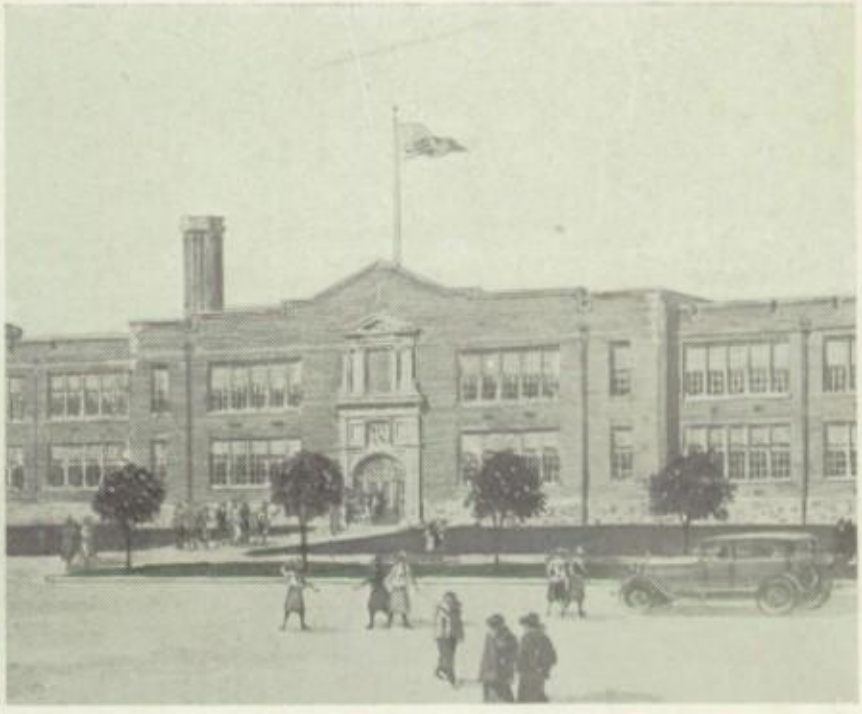
FOREWORD

Five decades have gone by since the members of the first graduating class received their diplomas. In the many years which have passed, times and styles have changed. To illustrate the many changes which have occurred at Towson High since the first class left in 1904, the '53 SIDELIGHTS staff has attempted to contrast the past with the present in commemoration of our Golden Anniversary Graduation.

To those who have gone before us, we give our thanks for the traditions, honors, and memories which they have left. To those who come after us, we leave a wish for happiness in their future years of school life. To the seniors, we give this book, which will preserve for them many fleeting "golden" memories.



Towson High School, founded in 1907.



Towson High School, founded in 1926.

Highlights of FIFTY Years

Fifty years ago the doors of Towson High School were opened to its first twenty-seven students. Because this country school was destroyed by fire, classes were moved to the small stone building behind the Fidelity Trust Company's branch. Soon after this, however, the Board of Education erected the structure which now serves as Towson's elementary school.

After World War I, it became evident that an even larger school would be needed and thus the three story building on Central Avenue, now the junior high school, was planned and completed.

Overcrowding, again, caused inadequacies in school facilities and once more officials began to look for a site on which to build a new Towson High School. Nearly twenty-nine acres of land were purchased from the Towson Nurseries for the present building.

The valuable work done by Miss R. Louise Balls, who served first as a teacher and then as vice-principal, has been of assistance in the school's steady growth and progress. Her contributions have helped to make Towson High School a great asset to the community.

Taking . . .

In September, 1945, Mr. W. Horace Wheeler became principal of Towson High School. During the past eight years, he has accomplished successfully his greatest task—reorganization of the school curriculum with the growth in school population. His efforts and keen desire to improve our school have made possible Towson's rise to distinction.

Miss Mary A. Litsinger, our new vice-principal, came to us via Sparks High and Towson Junior High. Knowing many of the teachers and pupils when she arrived at Towson has made her position even more enjoyable.

An excellent job was done by Mr. Austin Bittle, our administrative assistant, in handling the many details entrusted in his care.

Mrs. Clevenger and Miss Kehler, Librarians.

The guidance and understanding of Miss Ruth M. Wack and Mr. James Leslie, our counselors, made them strong favorites with the pupils of Towson High. They were always ready to listen to students' problems and if possible, give advice.

Our librarians, Mrs. Sally Clevenger and Miss Burleigh Kehler have always been ready to assist students in the selection of books and in locating information.

For their wisdom and understanding, we are very grateful to the entire faculty. Only with their co-operation have we been able to successfully complete our four years of high school life.

Mrs. Bressler, Clerk, Miss Manser, Secretary, Miss Chelton, Clerk.

Mrs. Payne, Nurse.

Miss Betty Manser, the office secretary, and clerks, Mrs. Evelyn Bressler and Miss Shirley Chelton capably handled all office work.

Mrs. Elizabeth Payne, the school nurse, took care of the pupils who suffered minor injuries and illnesses.

English, a required subject throughout Senior High School, is centered basically around four skills —reading, writing, listening and speaking. Grammar, composition and literature are varied according to the needs and interests of the individual classes.

Journalism I and II, an elective course offered to tenth, eleventh and twelfth grade pupils, prepares students to write for school publications.

Another elective offered to those who wish to improve their vocal habits is Public Speech.

B. Stoner writes as, left to right, P. Reuss, C. Minitree and S. Guyton decline "star."

N. Quigley bargains in a Mexican market while J. Richardson, P. Howell and D. Smith sell merchandise.

Comprising our Language Department are Latin, Spanish and French. Academic students are required to take two years of the language of their choice.

In Latin classes, the main emphasis is placed on reading ability, grammar and vocabulary. French and Spanish, however, stress conversation along with reading, listening and comprehension. Visual aids, records and movies help to give those studying these romance languages an understanding of the countries and their people.

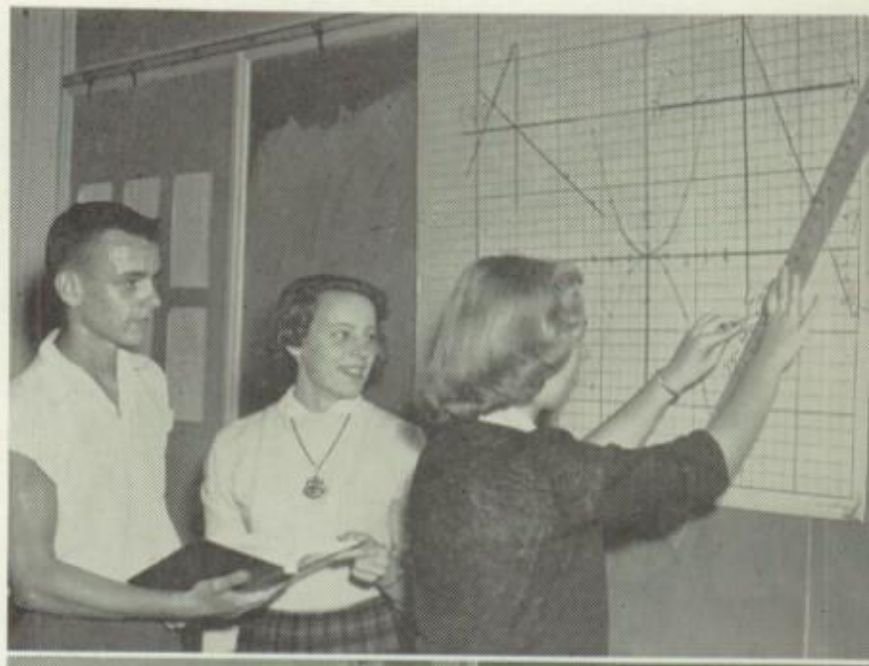
The Math Department of T.H.S. is comprised of two divisions: business Math and academic Math. Students preparing for the business world are offered Business Arithmetic and Bookkeeping, courses which will help them become better acquainted with the procedures of an office. Students hoping to enter a professional field are offered Beginner's and Intermediate Algebra, Plane and Solid Geometry and Trigonometry, each attempting to prepare them in some way for their chosen profession.

In Review of High School Math, a course given to twelfth graders only, the subject matter is varied to meet the needs of the group taking it.



Top: Graphing a simultaneous equation is E. Barnes while B. Sparenberg and S. Brown look on.

Understanding

The Science Department of Towson High School offers a well rounded program of studies particularly for the college bound student.

Biology is designed to provide a basic understanding of man's relationship to his surroundings. Emphasizing science in relationship to everyday living and environment is Consumer Science. Chemistry provides the student with an understanding of matter.

Dealing with the principles underlying the mathematical sciences, Physics gives a good background for those who will choose engineering or other phases of industry as a career.

Mr. Bayley

There are few schools that can surpass Towson in the Industrial Arts program. The Machine Shop, under the supervision of Mr. Keenan, offers a wide variety of courses for both vocational students and others who wish to gain some understanding of the principles of the machine. Mr. Hook's Mechanical Drawing classes offer any student an adequate knowledge of the fundamentals of mechanical drawing. Under the supervision of Mr. Edwards, the Wood Shop has produced many fine scale reproductions of furniture, some of which have won national recognition. Any student who desires a thorough knowledge of the mechanics of the automobile may enroll in one of Mr. Emig's Auto Shop classes.

Mr. Bayley teaches Driver's Education.

THE SENIOR CLASS

Under the guidance of its officers and sponsors, the Senior Class has successfully achieved its goals. June Week, Commencement, Senior Day and the Senior Tea were among the many important activities that showed the many capabilities of the class of '53.

The experience gained of assuming the responsibilities of the school and the opportunity to work with the underclassmen has made the 50th graduating class of Towson well able to take its place in society.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society consists of Juniors and Seniors who have attained exceptional achievement in scholarship, leadership, character and service in high school.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

The Juniors have accomplished much in preparing to take over their jobs as Seniors. Under the able leadership of their sponsors and officers, the class has contributed much to improve school spirit.

Their initiative, ability and talent was shown when they gave the Junior-Senior Prom, their biggest event of the year. Another highlight was the receiving of their rings.

Capable Juniors also held several major offices in school organizations and many key positions on school teams.

JUNIORS PREPARE DECORATIONS FOR JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

The Sophomore Class

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

A very active Sophomore Class has shown much initiative in its various activities. Its main event of the year was the Sophomore Prom which displayed the cooperativeness and class spirit of the 10th grade students.

The class has contributed many athletes to the Varsity and Jayvee teams as well as sponsoring a movie together with the freshmen.

The Sophomore Officers have worked in close alliance with their faculty advisors to guide the class in its decisions and projects.

During this year the sophomores have developed strong ties of loyalty and are looking forward to a promising future as upperclassmen.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

This year's Freshman Class has shown by their actions that it is an asset to Towson. The leaders of the class faced not only the problems concerned with running a class, but also the problems which confront all new Freshmen. In order to work efficiently, they needed unity. This was complicated by the fact that many of the students were placed in the new Parkville School in February.

Assisting the class in the most difficult period of their high school life, were their sponsors. Through their effort, the class was able to organize into a functioning unit and complete a successful year.

Student Government...

The Student Government Association, operating under a representative form of government, encouraged and supported all student activities.

It established for the first time, a Schoolwide Committee consisting of representatives from all service organizations, who acted upon problems concerning the entire student body. The S. G. A. also revised the Point System making it possible for seniors to receive their awards in March.

Towson's Student Court, the judicial branch of the S. G. A., tried and sentenced violators of all school laws. The court consisted of student judges who represented each class of T. H. S.

. . . Provides Democratic Leadership

The Towson Athletic Association, which controlled all the athletic programs in the school, put forth a great effort to bolster school spirit this year. It sponsored the 10th Alumni Homecoming and the 4th Annual Faculty Night as well as many intramural programs and pep rallies.

Towson's Cheerleaders, now charter members of the National Cheerleaders Associations, helped greatly in spurring the teams on to victory and increasing student enthusiasm.

"The dummy book needs revising, again!"
"There's not enough copy space!"
"We sold 75 subscriptions today!"

Such were the comments that could be heard throughout the year in S101, the SIDELIGHT's room, as the editors and staff members concentrated on the yearbook.

The staff began to work on the book during the summer months, using the Golden Anniversary of Towson High School as a theme.

Senior pictures were taken in August; the subscription drive began in September. Organizations, clubs, teams, and homerooms were photographed during the school year. Page layouts and copy were revised continually.

As each deadline was met, the editors gradually saw the book become a reality.

. . . School Activities

This year, Towson's tri-weekly newspaper, TALISMAN, became continually better as each issue went to press. Editors and reporters worked diligently with their advisor to print an interesting and enlightening paper. Controversial editorials, serious and humorous features, and informative news articles as well as the addition of numerous pictures should help to give the Quill and Scroll members a first place rating.

The Boys' Varsity Letter Club, newly organized at Towson this year, was opened to all varsity lettermen.

Aside from investigating college opportunities for athletes, the members helped to promote school spirit and to improve the general appearance of the building.

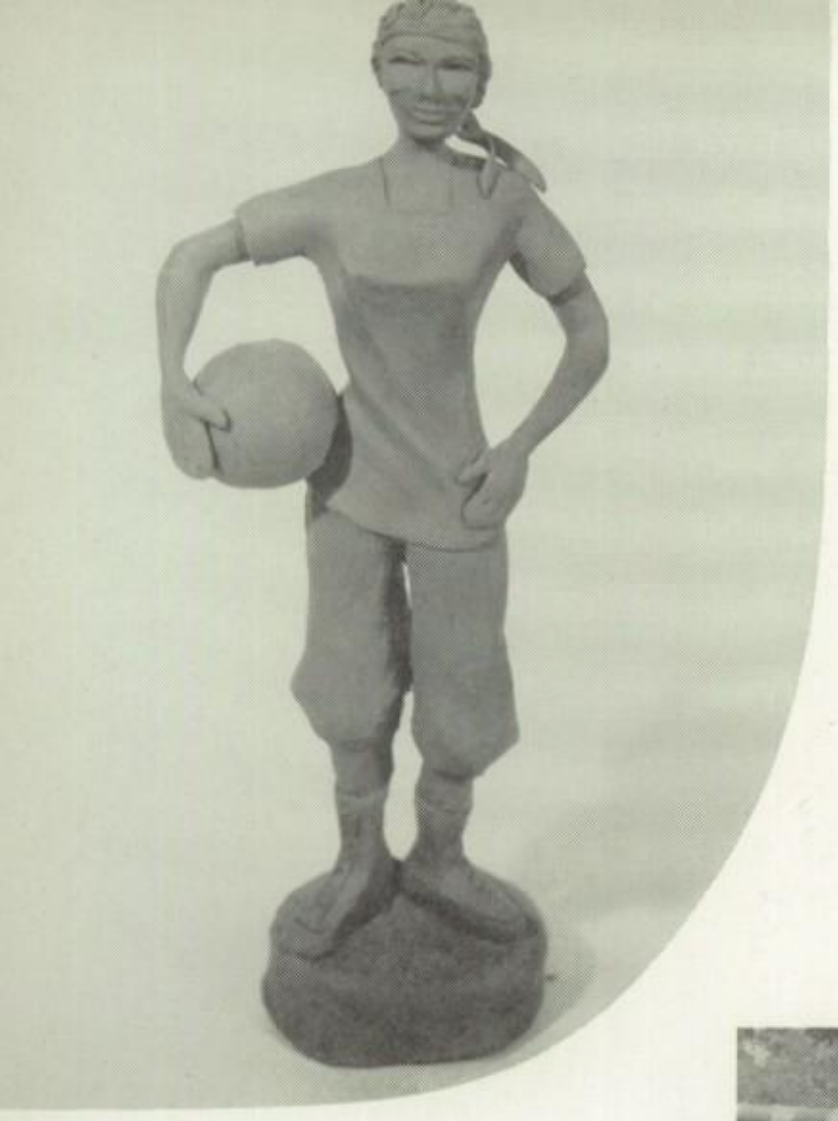
The Glee Club, aided by the Art Department and Masquers, staged their third operetta, The Chimes of Normandy, by Robert Planquette. A new organization in the music department this year was the Girls Chorus, which participated in the Christmas Pageant.

The band performed its first night concert and played at the school assemblies to add variety.



Booters Prove Powerful

The Varsity Soccer Team, although beginning their season by racking up four victories and one tie, seemed to lose some of their spark following a defeat by Catonsville. They lost their next two games. After ending their season with a win over Milford Mill, the Generals' record showed 5 wins, 3 losses and 1 tie.

The Junior Varsity Soccer Team carried home the County championship with an undefeated season. Next year, several players from the J. V. squad will move up to fill eight varsity berths vacated by seniors.

Hockey Eleven

Star on "Play Day"

Towson's Varsity Hockey Team, at the close of the '52 season, ranked second in county competition.

The "eleven" exhibited their best at the field hockey "play day" at Bryn Mawr. Here we caused the upset of the day by defeating Bryn Mawr, one of the best private school squads. Three Towsonites, Janet Otte, Nancy Isennock and Phyllis Gardner, were chosen for the "All School Teams" which was selected at the close of the day.

The Junior Varsity ended its season with two ties and two losses.

Generals Place Third

At the close of the basketball season, the Boys' Varsity Team placed third in County league standings with a record of 9 wins and 5 losses. Several one point decisions cost the Generals the championship, although they trounced the league-leading Franklin squad in a home game.

Don Sedlack was high scorer with 161 points. Wes Baynes displayed outstanding rebounding ability and Walt Laderer and Mel Rhoten were the main playmakers of the team.

The J. V. Basketball Squad captured the County Championship with an undefeated season.

Varsity Squad Ties For Honors

With four wins, two losses and one tie, the Girls' Varsity Basketball Team ranked fourth in County league competition at the close of the season. Libby Roberts, one of the four sophomores on this year's squad, was high scorer, netting a total of 91 points. Barb Anderson, senior, was second with 66 tallies.

In spite of the shortness of the majority of the players, Towson's team proved to be aggressive and managed to snatch innumerable rebounds.

The J. V. players were also in fourth place at the season's end.

Harriers Four Time Champions

Two outstanding changes were introduced in the Baltimore County cross country program at the beginning of the '52 season. The running distance was enlarged from 1½ to 2 miles, and instead of the usual varsity and J. V. squad, each school had to divide its varsity into an "A" and "B" team.

After the "A" team was defeated by Poly on the T. H. S. course, the possibility of victories in the county and state meets was slight. But at the county meet, Towson went against all predictions by winning not only the J. V. and "B" team events, but also the varsity "A" division, to remain champions for the fourth straight year.

The following week the Harriers again went beyond expectations by beating Catonsville, the defending champs, to win their second State Championship.

Having only lost a few varsity men from last year's squad, the track team seemed highly favored at the beginning of the season to cop its fourth straight county title.

Veterans Samm, Matthews, Baynes, Covahey, Donnell, Blaker, Moores and Seidel returned to form an experienced nucleus, while several runners moved up from the '52 J. V. squad.

Netters Defend Title, Holdovers Strengthen "Nine"

Towson's varsity volleyball team, coached by Miss Alice Behlmer, have been county champions for the past six years. They hope to retain the title in the '53 season, and are anticipating a successful day at the county meet to be held on May 7th.

The small turnout for the '53 softball team made it hard for Mrs. Jean Cooke to pick her roster of twenty-eight girls.

Returning to bolster this year's squad from last year's varsity are Carroll, Gadd, Gardner, Isennock, and Lockerman.

Stickmen Strong as Season Opens

Lacrosse coach, James Leslie, was very optimistic at pre-season practices about the approaching league games, despite the fact that only five players returned from last year's varsity. Experienced stickmen, Laderer, McKenzie, Parks, Ripplemeyer and Yeatman were augmented by ex-J. V. players and newcomers from other schools.

In the first few exhibition games, the stickmen defeated Boys' Latin 7-4, and Annapolis High with a score of 10-3.

J. V. coach Melvin Rosenstein piloted a promising team as Marden, Coyle, Noble, Lafferty and Moore were expected to be top men on the J. V. roster.

Diamond Squad Anticipates First Division

The Towson High baseball team, coached by Frank Reber, looked forward to an excellent year in county competition, as the '53 baseball season opened with eight varsity holdovers.

A powerful pitching staff, including Bel Burns, George Schammel and Ronnie Laumann, proved to be one of the team's strongest assets. Jim Emge, rated as one of the best catchers in the league, performed behind the plate, while Bob Ruby again took over as shortstop.

We, the Class of 1953, upon ending our year of golden memories, leave the pride of graduation to the coming Senior classes of the next half century.

Best of luck in everything. Remember typing, shorthand, and dont forget — Pat "54"

To a sweet gal
all the luck in the world from what a built
Joe Stingell

To a real great
Pal who has Daisy right where she wants
him. "I love you"
"Dear Dee"
"Dear maybe"

Best of Luck now & in the future years to come your Classmate
Shirley "54"

To our future "President" lots of success in everything
a friend
